Research Summary

Research Interests: Natural Language Processing, Social Computing Analysis, Spatio-temporal Data Mining, Mobility on Demand, Cloud-Edge computing paradigm.

- PhD Research Summary: My PhD research work is motivated by the fact that human moves with an intent, and mapping the intent of the move with raw GPS log provides usable knowledge to build an effective system.

In this regard, the major objectives of this work are (i) extracting and modelling semantic knowledge of human movement behaviours, and (ii) finding the correlations among movement behaviour of people and other contexts by retrieving mobility association rules, (iii) deploying mobility-aware hierarchical and collaborative cloud-fog-edge-IoT architecture and provisioning mobility-as-a-service.

- Understanding Public Perception and Identifying Misinformation Flow in Social Media Social media plays a pivotal role in information acquiring, exchanging and expressing public opinions and perceptions in a unprecedented scale. Our aim is to develop an end-to-end social media data analytics framework to understand public opinion and public action effectively leveraging natural language processing and novel machine learning methods. Further, we attempt to identify misinformation propagation and echo-chamber effects in social network effectively.
- Leveraging Generative Models for Semantic Trajectory Analysis Leveraging the advancements in deep learning, as evident by progress in the field of natural language processing (NLP), computer vision, etc. we intend to create intelligent models that can study the semantic trajectories in various contexts, predicting future trends, increasing machine understanding of movement of animals, humans, goods, clouds, etc. enhancing human-computer interactions, and contributing to an array of applications ranging from urban-planning to personalized recommendation engines and business strategy.
- Wildlife Mobility Pattern Analysis
Our goal is to analyse trajectory traces of wildlife and extracting traits and shape-based characteristics of mobility patterns of different animal species. Apart from spatio-temporal data (wildlife movement, landuse etc.) analysis, we aim to explore text-based survey and news data for understanding the perception of local community regarding human wildlife conflicts.
